"A" SQUADRON MAKES TRIP TO ST. JOHNS

C.O.T.C. Conducted Intricate Cavalry Movements.

THIRD VOYAGE.

Wet Weather Prevented Outdoor Work on Sunday.

On Saturday, March 5, "A" Squadron, McGill C.O.T.C., entrained at the Bonaventure Station for their third period of intensive cavalry training with the Royal Canadian Dragoons, at St. Johns, P.Q. The squadron was in command of Capt. D. H. Macfarlane, M.C., second in command of McGill C.O.T.C., and Lieut. Braithwaite, R.C.D. Capt. Macfarlane returned to Montreal Sunday, and Lieut. K. S. Jenckes, O.C. "A" Squadron, McGill C.O.T.C., and Lieut. D. F. Cantley joined the detachment.

On arrival, the squadron held its first mounted parade in the open, executing troop and squadron movements in a manner which reflects no little credit upon their instructors, Q.M.S.I. Dowdell, R.C.D., and Sergt.-instructor King, R.C.D. Noon stables occupied the men until dinner, after which the men paraded with rifles for dismounted drill.

Rifle exercises were first practised under Q.M.S.I. Dowdell, R.C.D., and Sergt.-instructor King, R.C.D., with a special eye to the approaching inspection. The men then practised troop formations, and later, under Q.M.S.I. Dowdell, R.C.D., the squadron carried on with squadron drill, the McGill troop sergeants acting as troop leaders, and showing themselves well qualified and up in their drill.

After the drill, the men heard an interesting talk by Major Caldwell, R.C.D., on his experiences in Germany with the Inter-Allied Commission, and conditions which obtain there. Evening stables preceded supper, after which the white lights of St. Johns attracted many of the student troopers.

On Sunday the weather was too wet to ride out, so instruction took place in the riding ring, the men showing a marked improvement and clearing a small jump with some success. The usual noon stables and dinner followed, after which the squadron went to sword exercise.

The squadron was divided into two troops under Q.M.S.I. Dowdell, R.C.D., and Sergt.-instructor King, R.C.D., and showed good progress in the use

Y.M.H.A. DEFEAT INTERMEDIATES 'B'

Last Game of Season Results in 39-19 Score.

The McGill Intermediate "B" team went down to defeat on Saturday night in the last scheduled game of the season against Y.M.H.A., at Molson's Hall.

In the first half, McGill had a slight edge, due largely to playing on their own floor and to the inability of the Y.M.H.A. lads to find the basket. The period ended with the score 16-12 in McGill's favor.

In the second period, Y.M.H.A. swept the McGill players off their feet. The combination of the Y.M.H.A. team was well-nigh perfect, and McGill rarely had possession of the ball during this period. During the first half McGill had puzzled Y.M.H.A. by using substitutes liberally, but they were unable to do this in the second period, as each player can only be changed twice during the game. The final score was—Y.M.H.A., 39; McGill, 19.

Silver and Mendelsohn starred for Y.M.H.A., the latter scoring 15 points for his team. All the McGill men did their best, and it would be impossible to pick out one better than the others. Turpil handled the game in a very efficient manner.

The line-up was as follows:
Y.M.H.A. McGill "B"
Mendelsohn...Forward...Tinkess
Silver.....Forward...Clark
Rubin.....Centre...Greenblatt
Levitt.....Defence...Schwartzman
Eccenthal...Defence...Caldwell
Erlanger...Spare...Moore
.....Spare...McGaw

CANDIDATES' PLATFORMS TO BE PUBLISHED

"Daily" Will Give Publicity to Policies.

TIME LIMIT.

Two of Them Will Be Given To-Morrow and Three on Wednesday.

In view of the forthcoming elections which are taking place on Thursday, March 10th, the "Daily" will again lend its columns to the publication of the "Platforms" of the several candidates. These should be handed in to the editor, personally, not later than 10 o'clock to-night, for publication in to-morrow's "Daily" in the case of candidates for the offices of President of the Students' Society and President of the Athletic Association. Platforms for the candidates to the three offices of President, Vice-President and Secretary of the Union will be received until 10 o'clock to-morrow night, and will be published in the "Daily" of Wednesday.

While the widest latitude is allowed candidates as regards the form in which their "platforms" may be presented, for the sake of uniformity, the following heads are suggested:

Office Sought.
Name.
Prep. School.
Past and Present Activities at McGill.
Overseas Service.

Any other matters which the candidate wishes to make known (i.e., his proposed policy, etc.).

The strictest impartiality will be observed regarding the prominence given to these write-ups, but they must be received before the time given above. The "Daily" can accept no responsibility for the non-publication of any "platform" submitted.

As there is every prospect of a keen contest in each of the offices, it is to be hoped that candidates will take the fullest advantage of this opportunity to make their proposed policy known to their electors. The student-body as a whole have a right to know the grounds upon which a candidate solicits their votes, and definite statements by candidates go far towards satisfying the uncertain ones, and will undoubtedly influence a great number of wavering voters.

For candidates to the office of President of the Students' Society and President of the Athletic Association, to-night at ten is the latest hour at which "platforms" will be received. Candidates for the three other offices may submit their write-ups any time before ten o'clock to-morrow night.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

All first and second year students who have been receiving attendance credits in the Department of Physical Education by taking part in Hockey, Ski-ing, Snowshoeing, Basketball, Boxing, Wrestling, Fencing, Swimming and Water Polo, are reminded of the fact that as participation in these activities ceases, they must continue to secure credits to the end of the session with some other activity. The only exceptions for the balance of the session are those men who have been fortunate enough to secure either an "M" or numerals in any of the above activities during the second term.

NEW SPORT LEAGUE TO BE FORMED

Indoor Baseball To Be Given Encouragement.

MEETING IN UNION.

Plans To Be Discussed For Forming Indoor Baseball League at McGill.

The water-poloists, having won the Intercollegiate Championship, must be thinking of laying away their equipment in their lockers and turning their efforts to some other sphere. The recent thaw warns us that the hockeyists will soon have to emulate their example. Basketball, too, is getting into the "sere and yellow leaf." But here is where a new activity begins to rear its head above the rolling waves of the athletic ocean. The reference is to indoor baseball, which up till now has mainly been participated in by one or two Commerce teams. Now, however, it is to receive added impetus, and may possibly take the place of the aforementioned activities. On Wednesday next at 5 p.m., there will be, in the Union, a meeting of representatives of the first and second years, with the end in view of forming an indoor baseball league in the University. Coach Shaughnessy will be on hand, and in fact will take charge of the meeting. He will help towards arranging a schedule between the various faculties and classes, and will make clear how the games are to be carried out. It is intended to have the games begin next week, so it will be clearly seen that those behind this movement are not wasting any time in getting it going.

In view of the rapid strides and development that indoor baseball has made in recent years, the Department of Physical Education is taking interest in the game. It is therefore their intention to encourage indoor baseball as one of the branches of the regular physical curriculum at McGill.

It is hoped that there are a sufficient number interested in indoor baseball to make it go if it is taken up with any measure of enthusiasm. A good number are expected to be at this coming meeting, and attendance will be taken that will count in lieu of presence at one of the prescribed gymnasium periods.

The order of dancing will be as follows:—

1—Waltz.
2—Fox Trot.

Supper—Second Sitting.
8—Fox Trot.

The Committee are at present hard at work in their endeavours to make this year's Alma Mater Dance second to none in the history of the University, as this dance has always been considered as by far the most important of the season's three formal dances, marking, as it does, the close of the social season at McGill.

Announcements regarding further details of this dance will appear in these columns during the course of the present week.

THE WEAK SPOTS

The students of the Faculty of Arts of this University are wont on certain occasions to raise up their voices in justifiable protest. Some time ago it was the lack of a smoking-room that caused just such an outburst of wrath. While every so often the Arts student apparently feels constrained to give vent to the very natural chagrin occasioned by the venerable antiquity of the quarters he is immured in, though, he it said, he is not the only one to suffer from this evil at McGill. But there is one factor in the scholastic life of the Arts student which should go far to compensate him for these trials and tribulations. In his upper years at any rate he may, by the exercise of a little native ingenuity, avoid the weak spots of the professoriate. We are inclined to wonder whether the average Arts man is fully aware of the magnitude of this very real blessing.

Of course there are not many such weak spots at McGill. There are not many professors whose sole mission on this earth is apparently to read from a frayed and time-yellowed manuscript of lecture notes for periods of fifty minutes at a time. There are not many who belong to that genus of scholar which has been termed a "vocal textbook," and there are not many, the very sound of whose voices suggests sweet slumber to the wearied undergraduate. But there are some. The Arts student may avoid them if he will. Who would not be an Arts student?

The would-be scientist, the lawyer of the future, or the medical man in the making, is far less fortunately placed than his colleague in Arts in this respect. In the great majority of cases he must take what is given him without demur. For him there is no loophole of escape. He is not allowed to avoid the weak spots. While the Arts student may with careful eye peruse the Calendar at the beginning of the session, and select his course of study with due regard to the avoidance of "dead wood," the less happy student from another faculty must be content to satisfy himself with what the gods see fit to bestow upon him, a most unsatisfactory mode of procedure on occasion. And yet the Arts student complains.

And this moves us to ask ourselves why there should be any weak spots at all at McGill, few and far between though they may be. No student is competent to pass judgment upon the scholarship of any member of the professoriate, but it must be granted that he is at least able to decide whether or not he is deriving the veriest shred of benefit from any one course of lectures, for he is the one who suffers in the end.

Now the student is helpless to better his position. Because of the one-eighth rule he is forced to attend the greater bulk of his lectures however wearisome or devoid of all practical value they may be. It rests with the authorities then, who have not seen fit to dispense with this regulation, to see to it that what "duds" there are to be replaced by "five wires," if only as a matter of the most elementary justice. We have been careful to point out that there are but few belonging to the former category at McGill, but in a university boasting of progress and efficiency there should be none at all. Even the Arts student is not always able to escape the weak spots, while as for his unlucky brethren, the most fiendish tortures of the middle ages are as nothing compared to the mental agony of being compelled to listen to any one series of utterly worthless lectures. It is barbarity to expect it of any human being. There should be no weak spots at McGill.

R. V. C. NOTES

HOCKEY.
Owing to weather conditions the game between Third and Fourth years had to be postponed. If the weather holds out this match will be played in the Victoria Rink on Tuesday at 7 p.m. Friends and supporters are asked to turn out and root. Admission twenty-five cents.

DELTA SIGMA SOCIETY.
On Wednesday afternoon the Delta Sigma Society will hold the public speaking contest. This contest counts for a point towards the banner, there are also two silver cups awarded. The subjects are chosen by the speakers and are therefore always very varied. This contest is well worth hearing. So keep Wednesday afternoon free and come to the meeting.

Dr. Gordon's Bible Class will meet as usual at 5.10 p.m., in Room 104. It is hoped that every member will endeavor to be there. Make up your mind this morning that you will attend and then go—don't be persuaded by someone else at the last minute to go off anywhere else!

STATEMENT OF FINANCING OF THE YEARBOOK

Close Calculation Required to Bring Success.

SAFE MARGIN.

Response to "Caution Money Appeal" Helped to Eliminate Deficit.

As it is generally understood by the members of the Junior Year, and by students all over the college how this year's edition of the Yearbook is financed, the Board have thought it wise to present the following statement of the situation. The price at which this book is being placed on the market, i.e., $3.50 to Juniors, and $2.50 to others, has been worked out by the Managing Board after the consideration of many factors.

In the first place, the fact that the Annual of past years has in some cases been turned out at a loss, and that the management was faced with a deficit, acted as a great deterrent to those members of the Junior year who were interested enough to feel the responsibility for continuing the annual college publication, and their opinion was that the work should not be undertaken unless it could be made a financial success. To this end it was deemed necessary to make the total number of copies sold much larger than in previous years, and the minimum number was set at one thousand.

The Board then figured out that 450 Juniors would be willing to pay up to $3.50, and then 550 others would pay $2.50. This would make the receipts $1575 and $1375. The advertising space was estimated to produce a net income of $1200, bringing the total projected receipts to $4150. A book was designed to fit into this scheme, and at the same time it is determined to attain the high standard of previous Annuals. Specifications were submitted to various printers and finally the following contract was accepted, from a well-known Montreal firm:

Engraving $1285
Printing and Incidental Expenses 2500
Total for 1000 copies $3785

The work of assembling the copy, editing and submitting the material and the photography was proceeded with and is now complete.

The Juniors were canvassed and 425 paid $3.50, in Caution Money—$1487.50 in all. A campaign was carried out through the rest of the college and over 700 subscribed $2.50 each. The advertising was included in the contract, so that for the first thousand copies, allowing 50 copies free to advertisers and others, there will be about $4000 to pay the bill. This gives a margin of safety of about $215, from which must be deducted about $100 for running expenses.

For the number over 1000 required, printing, etc., will be the sole cost, and at the printers' rate of $2.50 per copy. The Caution Money deposit will just cover this.

It will be seen that this is not a money making proposition, and also that there should be no deficit. At the same time it is pointed out that the Board depend on getting the Caution Money which students have signed away for this purpose; it is the duty of everyone who takes the Yearbook to make sure that this amount is still in their credit at the end of the year, and if their Caution Deposit is exceeded by other debts they should see that a sufficient amount is deposited with the Bursar to make up the amount due for the Yearbook.

The whole idea of the Managing Board has been to produce a creditable book that is within the reach of every student and at the same time to standardize the Yearbook so that it may be easily perpetuated in the years to come.

A. R. LAWRENCE,
Chairman,
Managing Board McGill Yearbook.

of their weapons. A short talk on the employment of man power in war was given by Major L. L. Caldwell, R.C.D. The men then paraded to evening stables.

After tea, the squadron paraded for entrainment, and returned to Montreal on the 8.05 C.P.R. train, after a series of hearty college yells and songs. This may be the last trip of the C.O.T.C. to St. Johns, but it is hoped to arrange a trip about Easter if it can be managed. This will, of course, be after the inspection of the corps scheduled for the 21st of this month.

ACCIDENT TO THE MILK CAN SPECIAL HERE

Train Derailed Near Windsor Station.

NO LIVES LOST.

Pa and Ma Whiffletree Will Come By Subway.

Last night at 9.30 o'clock a serious accident occurred on the C.P.R. between Westmount and Windsor Station. The Milk Can Special, loaded to capacity with milk, cream, butter and eggs from Sims Corners, was derailed, and all the cars thrown off the rails.

It is believed that the accident was caused by a careless employee of the Dinner and Food Service Department leaving a Wener Schnitzel on the track, and everyone knows how dangerous these little dainties are. The natural consequence was, that when the Special came along at its great rate of speed (10 square miles per hour) only one thing could happen, and as Caesar said, "That which he suspected would happen, actually did happen," the Special jumped the rails and the whole train was overturned. Strange to say, the Wener Schnitzel was unhurt, and we are led to suspect that there is some ulterior motive attached to it.

This accident is of no small importance to McGill students, as our distinguished visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Hank Whiffletree, are to arrive to-morrow night. However, lest they should not come at all, the Law students sent a representative to the C.P.R., and the latter have started work on a subway between Westmount and Windsor Station, and it is expected that it will be completed by to-morrow night.

As a result, the Judge, Mr. and Mrs. Whiffletree and their party will arrive at the underground station to-morrow night at 8.15 o'clock, and in order that the whole five thousand McGill students may be accommodated, they are coming up by the elevator to the concourse, and as they step out, St. will greet his Papa and Mamma, and the Mayor will present the Judge with the Freedom of the City.

The trial will commence about 8.45, and EVERYBODY IS EXPECTED to be there.

HARVARD LIBRARY ONE OF LARGEST

Director's Report Places it Third in United States.

More than 2,000,000 volumes and pamphlets are in the Harvard University Library, according to Prof. Archibald C. Coolidge, director of the library, who says in his annual report that only two libraries in the country, the Congressional Library at Washington, District of Columbia, and the New York Public Library, are larger, and no other university library rivals it in size. More than 1,000,000 of these books are housed in the Widener Memorial Library Building and the remainder distributed in 41 special and departmental libraries elsewhere in the university.

"The purchase of books by the library," writes Professor Coolidge in his report, "has been greatly affected by the extraordinary conditions of the money market. Owing to the rates of exchange, it has been possible to buy books in Austria, Germany, Italy, France, and even England at a figure undreamt of before. On the other hand, the very high price of American books discourages any but the most necessary purchases in this country. The college library, like many others, has tried to make the best use of opportunities not likely to recur and has ordered large numbers of foreign works at the prevailing prices.

"The total of orders sent was double that of the preceding year or of almost any other year in the history of the library. At times the operation was somewhat of a gamble, owing to the violent fluctuations of exchange and to the efforts of the sellers, and more especially of the German Government, to counter-balance unprofitable exchange by the imposition of special charges. In spite, however, of such uncertainties, the library was able to make many purchases on terms favorable to itself and in several directions to add materially to its strength.

"The drawbacks to these acquisitions have been that they tended to give the overburdened catalogue department more books than it could look after and secondly that the cheapness of a book does not affect the amount of money necessary to catalogue it. Books themselves, if foreign ones, may cost us much less than they would have a few years ago, but the expense of handling them and of making them accessible to the public has risen ever higher with the general rise of wages."

McGILL TEAM OUTPLAYS THE HIGHLANDERS

Basketball Quintette Won by Score of 56—24.

FAST GAME.

Match Was Loosely Played at Times, With Numerous Free Shots.

On Saturday afternoon, at the Armory on Bleury Street, the McGill Senior Basketball team won against the Highlanders by a score of 56 to 24. The game could hardly be said to have been a pleasure to watch, although it was fast and the play never lagged. But it was loose and sloppy at times, especially in the second period, and some of the plays could, with very little imagination, have been termed "rough stuff." In fact, one man of the opposing team, was just after the start of the second period, benched for the remainder of the game for giving Laisley a really stiff jolt in the stomach. The Killies never once seemed to get into their stride except for brief and odd moments throughout the game, while the Red and White quintette "got their eye in" nearly as soon as the first period began. It must be admitted that the Highlanders had some pretty punk luck once or twice when the ball balanced on the edge of the basket and some perverse force seemed to pull it backwards instead of shoving it forwards.

"McGill kept the play" in a speedy condition and displayed excellent team and combination work. After all, in basketball the game depends more on co-operation than the stirring ability of a single man, and the McGill team seem to have securely grasped this point and showed it on Saturday. "Lou" Kern made a very fair showing as a defence man, but more especially shone when making free shots. He received numerous opportunities in this line, and hardly without exception took advantage of them. Hay, at centre made good at the position; in the face-off he very rarely failed to beat the other man to the ball. For the Highlanders, Pitts deserves mention for his untiring efforts to bring his team out of the rut of defeat. Young was always ready to grab chances for scoring.

The winning of this game leaves McGill free to pursue her way into the finals of the City League. M.A.A.A. and McGill are now running abreast, and if McGill beats M.A.A.A. on Wednesday they will have to play again with the Killies to decide the championship. If they lose—but they won't. Incidentally, a few men with strenuous vocal cords would be appreciated.

The basketball team emulated their water polo conferees in two respects—they won, but they also started late. However, they made up for this by scoring the first two goals in quick succession. Their opponents soon evened up, but never got into their stride. McGill got even better towards the end of the period, which ended with the score 25 to 13, with the marginal surplus on the Red and White side of the ledger.

The Highlanders started out the second half with slightly improved form, but soon had a relapse, and McGill practically played rings around them. There were a large number of free shots—for McGill—nearly all of which Kern very neatly put in. But for a spasmodic rally towards the end, the Killies were outclassed, and the final score was 56 to 24 in McGill's favor.

Referee McCutcheon handled the game to the satisfaction of the players, but evoked several loud-voiced remarks from the fairly large audience present. These remarks were quite unwarranted; McCutcheon was extremely fair to both teams.

LAST THE DANTS AT THE R.V.C.

Georgious Affair Took Place on Saturday Afternoon.

There are nothing but memories remaining now to the The Dansants hounds at McGill. For on Saturday the last of these popular events to be held during the present session took place in the Royal Victoria College. In popularity and in meticulous attention to detail it is believed to have far outstripped its predecessors of the present year. Owing to the untiring efforts of the fair canvassers, who for many a day past have been proclaiming by voice and poster the needs and merits of the organizations represented by the mystic symbols, S.C.M. and R.V.C.A.A., a very large number of tickets were disposed of to those of the undergraduate body who lacked the awful courage to wave aside the swarms of persistent ticket-sellers. Their numbers, swelled by the Fox-Trot Fiends and the Walts Wizards, served to form a truly inspiring crowd, which literally taxed the floor of the Convocation Hall to its capacity.

As an added attraction, "Chub" Lebaron's orchestra supplied the music throughout the afternoon.

LATEST NEWS FROM MCGILL GRADS THROUGHOUT CANADA

Dr. Cyrus Macmillan is Appointed to the Advisory Board of the Re-Organized Montreal Herald—Former Member of Championship Football Team Sets Up in Practice on the Coast — Major F. W. Lees, Med. '08, is Gazetted as M.O. of the Duke of Connaughts Own — Prof. Dale Harris is Pronounced To Be Out of Danger — Births, Marriages and Deaths.

With his appointment to the Advisory Board of the re-organized Montreal Herald, Major Cyrus Macmillan, Ph.D., Arts '00, of the Department of English at the University, has definitely entered the field of journalism. For some months Dr. Macmillan, whose kindly interest in the welfare of "McGill Daily" is gratefully remembered by successive editors, and whose powers as an athlete while an undergraduate created for him a splendid track record, has been connected with the periodical press as one of the associate editors of "The Veteran," the organ of the Great War Veterans' Association. The new venture in which he now finds himself engaged is virtually an experiment so far as Canada is concerned. The Herald is to be conducted by returned men for returned men, to advance their interests and to disseminate their views. Under the guidance of such men as Dr. Macmillan and those who are associated with him on the advisory board, assurance is given that not only will the newspaper serve the purpose for which its re-organization is planned, but also that it will rise infinitely above the mediocrity which has characterized its publication for some years past.

After varied service abroad with the Imperial forces, Major Otto De Muth, M.C., Med. '15, has recently commenced practice in Vancouver, in his native province. His work as a surgeon during the war was such that Col. Carlsson, consulting surgeon to the Eastern Command, specially recommended that he be admitted to the examination for the fellowship of the Royal College of Surgeons. During the last eighteen months Major De Muth has been studying in London, taking a post-graduate course under such eminent men as Sir D'Arcy Power, Sir Gordon Watson, Sir Frederick Andrews, Col. Gask, C.M.G., D.S.O., Professors Fraser and Brainbridge of St. Bartholomew's Hospital and London University. He succeeded in being among the successful candidates.

Originally with No. 3 Canadian General Hospital (McGill), Major De Muth, known as a member of former championship McGill football teams, in May, 1915, in response to a call for volunteers for the R.A.M.C., went to Limerick, Ireland, and after a short training there joined the staff of St. George's Hospital, Malta, as surgeon. He later went to France and served in a number of regiments. He won the Military Cross for attending wounded under heavy shell-fire and gained wide commendation for his work with "moist dressings" in the front line trenches. While serving in England later he had the experience of having as patients many of the soldiers who took part in the Ostend and Zeebrugge naval raids. At his own request he was demobilized in England in order that he might continue his studies in post-graduate work.

The marriage of Miss Laurette Beaubien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Joseph Beaubien, to Jean Julien Perrault, Arch. '15, has been arranged to take place on March 23 at St. Viateur Church, Outremont.

Rev. Allan S. Reid, Arts '02, has resigned as pastor of Livingstone Presbyterian Church, Montreal, to assume special duties as director of the Religious Education Association of Quebec. He has acted voluntarily in this capacity for some time past.

Thomas Conway, long engaged in the construction of telegraph lines in British Columbia, is dead in Ladysmith, B.C., at the age of 77. He was the father of E. J. Conway, Sci. '09, of the Granby Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co., Anyox, B.C.

Major F. W. Lees, M.C., Med. '08, has been gazetted Medical Officer of the 7th Battalion, 1st British Columbia Regiment (Duke of Connaught's Own), Vancouver, B.C.

Graduates learn with pleasure of the improvement in the condition of S. L. Dale Harris, Arts '02, Law '05, lecturer in Commercial Law in the Faculty of Law, who received severe injuries in a fall from the window of his office located on the six floor of the Montreal Trust Building. Mr. Dale Harris is a patient in Notre Dame Hospital and, in spite of the severity of his injuries and the shock to his nervous system, is expected to recover.

At Halifax, N.S., on February 26, the marriage took place of Isabel, youngest daughter of John S. Riddle, Danville, Que., and B. Reagh Hooper, Sci. '17, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Hooper, Charlottetown, P.E.I.

Hon. W. E. Knowles, past student, who has been Provincial Secretary of Saskatchewan since 1918, and Minister of Telephones since 1919, has resigned from Hon. J. M. Martin's administration and will devote his entire attention to his law practice in Moose Jaw.

On March 2, at the home of the bride's parents, Miss Gertrude Gittle-son, Arts '17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Gittleson, Dorchester St. West, Montreal, was married to Dr. Louis Gross, Med. '16. Dr. and Mrs. Gross will reside in London, England. Miss Antonia Selden, Arts '17, was bridesmaid and Dr. Harry Goldblatt, Med. '16, was best man.

On March 3, at the Montreal Maternity Hospital, a daughter was born to H. R. Trenholme, Sci. '96, and Mrs. Trenholme.

Dr. H. M. Tory, Arts '00, president of the University of Alberta, has been elected to the Council of the Canadian Red Cross Society.

Captain Yves Lamontagne, Sci. '15, has been associated with the Electrical News, Toronto, as associate editor. He is a former "McGill Daily" man, but not known at the University as a cellist.

themselves. All the apparatus work was very snappy and well executed. The remaining events were all captured by Consiglio. In the bar vault he broke a college record by a full inch, when he cleared 6 ft. 1 in. In the Hop, Step and Jump he also did well, winning the maximum points in that event with a jump of 24 ft. 11½ in. The potato race was closely contested, and Consiglio only won out from Holland when the latter dropped a potato. The time for the race was 46 4-5 seconds, which is 2 4-5 seconds above the college record.

The officers of the Department of Physical Education were judges. Coach Van Wagner directed the competition. It was stated after the meet that the standard was considerably higher than that of last year.

WICKSTEED MEET HELD SATURDAY

Holland Makes the Highest Number of Points.

Although only four competitors for the Wicksteed Medals took part in the tests, a very fine exhibition of gymnastic work was provided for the few spectators present. The fewness of competitors is easily explained by the fact that many potential prospects needed only one look at the winners to convince them of their own inferiority.

In the Graduating Class, Welner, Dent '21, carried off the honors with a total of 323 points. Holland, Com. '22, scored 399, the greatest number of points, and won the Intermediate Class, defeating Reg. Delahaye, Med. '25, by a margin of fourteen. Last year Holland only defeated Delahaye by a single tally. Consiglio, Sci. '21, won the Freshman Honors by making the very creditable score of 366.

The Gymnastic Drill and the Dance were won by Holland. The competitors were not acquainted with the movements in either until the competition had started. This part of the programme required quick thinking and an ability to quickly copy the motions demonstrated.

In the apparatus work, Holland and Delahaye divided the honors—the former won the parallel bars and the horse, while the latter triumphed in the high horizontal bar and many events. These tests consisted of two set exercises and two voluntary exercises thought out by the contestants.—The Rotarian.

The Tale Of A Job

BEING HINTS TO THE JOBLESS
By TRAPPER
(A Hunter of Jobs).

Part I.—THE PROPOSAL.

WANTED.

Wanted: Position on Survey Party is desired by student of Yahoo Univ. Must be good pay and little work. Has had experience. Address to J. A. S., Box 1003, "The Cootie."

Spring is here,—at least it nearly is, which, when you are looking for a job, is very much the same thing. To most of us, spring means just that; that it is time to go job-hunting. As some among us are doing this for the first time, I venture to offer some hints, and advice, which may prove useful. If it does get one man a job, I will feel flattered, and he will be lucky.

Mind you, I am not going to go into details for getting a "position," one of those nice "cushy" ones where it is all pay and no work. I don't know how to get those, and if I did I would not tell, so we'll have to confine ourselves to plain, unadorned, prosaic jobs.

We have set out to look for a job and we at once begin to consider what kind of a job to get. There seems to be, roughly speaking, two kinds of work—indoor and outdoor. The nature of your work, whether under a roof or not depends largely, in fact entirely, upon yourself. It is, of course, preferable to get work of the same nature as your college course, but that is up to you. The two main considerations are pay and experience. It is very seldom that both can be obtained, but lucky he who gets them. Generally speaking, experience and perhaps less pay is preferable to a paying job and no experience. Experience is getting to be more and more important, so one must not throw an offer away just because the salary is not $1,000.00 a month. If you are waiting for a job like that, you might as well make arrangements with the undertaker to look after you. How long did MacSwiney live? About three months, wasn't it?

After much mature deliberation, we decide upon a certain line of work. Take surveying, for example. The trouble is now to convince the surveyor that our presence is essential to his success. A friend of ours, Mr. James Anderson Smith, sets out to look for a survey job, and as he is very much on the average, it will be easy to follow him and keep tab on his correspondence.

Smith's first move is to obtain the names of some surveyors. He does this in several ways. First of all, he gets the "phone book, looks up the yellow advertising pages, and gets from there the names of some half-dozen surveyors. He also makes numerous inquiries among his friends and relations, who are about heartily sick of Jim and his job. What should he care?—he must have a job, and that soon.

One evening, when he should have been studying Grecian Art, Smith decides to write some applications and find out how chances are for a job with his various prospects. He sets out paper, pens and ink; but, when he comes to write he is at a loss what to say. He tries various forms, and is disgusted. To cheer himself, he goes visiting about, and collects a huge pile of advice. After much sorting and eliminating, he prepares the following epistle:

Messrs. Transit & Level,
Surveyors,
Chaintown.

Dear Sirs,—

I beg to apply to you for a position upon one of your survey parties for the coming summer.

I may say that I have had ten years' experience in all kinds of Surveying and Engineering, and am fully acquainted with the bush. I am at present taking fifth year Embroidery at Yahoo University, Fauquier.

As to physical qualifications, I may say that I am about fifteen feet ten inches tall, weigh 322 1-4 lbs., and am 26 years 10 months of age.

I can refer you to Mr. S. Whiffletree, of the Faculty of Law, also to the Rev. H. Spriggins, of Sims' Corners.

Yours truly,

(Signed) J. A. SMITH.

(Here note the use of the word "position." Though one is hardly likely to get a position, still always strive for your ideal.)

Jimmie sends off a lot of these, and in process of time he gets replies from about 75 per cent. of the men he wrote to. He seeks for encouragement, and finds little; but he does find that there are three types of answer to his applications.

It is so noticeable, that he keeps count of the various ones, and finds that the second type is the commonest, then comes the first, and lastly the last.

First comes the bulging envelope with an application form or two and an accompanying note to this effect:

Dear Sir,—
Would you kindly fill in, in triplicate, the enclosed forms of applica-

"So?"

"Yes."

The visitor considered a minute: "About 500."

The farmer was astonished. "Absolutely correct," he declared. "How did you do it?"

"Well, I just counted the legs and divided by four," the friend explained.

At present rates, we don't see why on earth they call it "exchange."

This is a most unsatisfactory reply, as it means that they have so many applicants that it is worth while having a form printed. Smith fills in all forms, however, and off they go. As he says, "It only costs three cents, and you might get a job or even a position."

The second type is one degree more satisfactory, and, if your application is in early enough, sometimes leads to a job:

Dear Sir,—

I have your letter of the 31st instant, making application for a position on survey or maintenance parties.

Would be glad to advise you if anything turns up and will place your letter on file for further reference.

Yours very truly,

R. R. SLEEPER,

Chief Engineer, M. C. & H. B. Ry. (The two foregoing letters are copies of actual replies to applications.)

The third class is small, and consists of letters advising you to write later. This class and the second sometimes lead to something, but to the best of my knowledge, the first class rarely does.

Though the foregoing deals with one form of work, the procedure is similar in all the others. Get the names of firms and men in the line you are interested in, and write to them. Be brief, but state what you want, your qualifications, and it is generally wise to mention physical as well as scholastic ones.

Busy men value their time, and when they get an application they want to know all about your abilities at once. They don't want to start a correspondence with you to find out what you are like. Tell them at first.

Brevity is important, and, if you can say in ten words what Jones uses twenty for,—well, I will back you against Jones.

SPLENDID MUSIC AT SUNDAY EVENT

Miss Cousin's Solos and P.C. Orchestra Selections of Interest.

Last evening the weekly Sunday "Social Hour" was held at Strathcona Hall, when many students, representing the various student circles of the University, were present.

The main attraction last night was the singing of several solos by Miss Cousins, of the American Presbyterian Church Choir, accompanied by Miss Cross, of the R.V.C. The first solo, "Rock of Ages," was especially well sung, and, needless to say, was appreciated exceedingly, as was shown by the enthusiasm of those present for an encore.

The music supplied by the P. C. Orchestra, with Mr. Nichols as pianist, was no less responsible for the success of the evening.

Next Sunday, which will be one of the last this season left for these functions, special efforts are being made to have a particularly large number in attendance. Not only will Miss Denault, of the St. Andrew and St. Paul's Choir, contribute with vocal solos, but also it is hoped that Sir Arthur Currie and Mr. Oldham, from England, will also take part in the programme.

Results

An advertising medium lives or dies by reason of the results which it brings to its advertisers.

To make The Daily a successful medium to the merchants of the city it is our duty to demonstrate the fact that "Daily" advertising brings business.

And when the merchant knows that we bring him our business everybody is happy.

He says "That McGill paper is good to me." And he sticks with us. And when we make good for him we make good for ourselves as well.
